QUALIFICATIONS

Mr. Zimmerman joined The Douglas Company in December 2003 and through hard work and dedication has since earned positions to his promotion as Vice President of Estimating. Pete provides both experience and a full understanding of construction, cost control, the bid process, project documentation, project management, and time management. With subcontractors and suppliers, Pete has proven his ability to tactfully and effectively communicate, negotiate, and resolve concerns.

Mr. Zimmerman is responsible for many key repeat clients and has completed approximately $52 million in projects for those clients. In addition to specializing in residential projects, Pete's talents also include an extensive background in retail/ commercial construction and has proven his ability to work closely with real estate developers.

Pete works closely with clients, architects, and subcontractors, during the estimating stage overseeing all budget and final estimates controlling cost, and maintaining relationships to ensure accurate and competitive pricing. His extensive understanding and skill in the construction and estimating process provides him with the knowledge to provide highly competitive pricing in a wide variety of construction projects and the ability to offer reliable value engineering options.

Mr. Zimmerman currently serves as a member of The Douglas Company's Executive Committee, establishing company policies and participates in the development of company strategies and objectives.
